

If you have children, what have you learned from being a parent?

What do you remember about raising them? Helping them learn? How often did you/do you hug and kiss your child, tell them what good they brought to the world. How often do you/did you allow them to make mistakes, defended them and protected them?